Prince Hassan heads workgroup to resolve regional water issues

AMMAN (Petra) — A high-ranking workgroup was formed in Amman on Tuesday tasked with following up on water issues in Jordan, Lebanon, Syria, Iraq and Turkey and moving from water disputes to joint cooperation among the five countries. The group is headed by HRH Prince Hassan, with former Turkish foreign minister Yasar Yakis and Lebanon's ex-finance minister Mohammad Shatah as members. The initiative is funded by the Swiss government in cooperation with the Strategic Foresight Group - India.
